Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 25 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry, and chilly overnight. Frosty in parts, with light winds.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry night with long clear spells developing and with winds generally light. Feeling chilly, with a patchy frost likely, especially in prone rural spots. The odd pocket of shallow mist or fog is also possible by dawn. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
Any early mist and fog will quickly clear, leaving a fine and sunny day with light winds. Feeling rather mild, with sunshine unbroken for much of the day. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Largely dry with sunny spells, although probably a little cloudier than on Friday. Overnight frost likely, along with some mist or fog patches. Some showers possible on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.